

New Program for Young People
Young Quaker Voices

- Learn about the legislative process
- Work on issues important to Quakers
 - Criminal Justice
 - Environmental Stewardship
 - Economic Justice
- Earn a small stipend

The Young Quaker Voices program will bring young adults into contact with issues in the state legislature and encourage their active engagement in the legislative process in ways that reflect Quaker values. Young adults aged 16-30 are eligible for the program. They will be trained by Quaker Voice on the legislative process and participate in a QV working group, developing background materials and tracking legislation on an issue within the Quaker Voice scope. All work will be done remotely. Time commitment will be about 25-30 hours over the legislative session.

To apply for the Young Quaker Voices program:

- Contact us at info@QuakerVoiceWA.org and request an application and further information on the program
- Applications are due by January 20, 2021
- The program begins on February 8, 2021
